AWWA honours skill set

Graduating batches of ASTC Delhi Cantt were honoured at a skill certification ceremony at Manekshaw Centre, Delhi Cantt on August 9. Madhulika Rawat, president, AWWA (Army Wives' Welfare Association) was the chief guest and presented the certificates to successful candidates in four job roles — self employed tailor, data entry operator, assistant beauty therapist and block printing. Candidates securing first and second positions in each batch were also awarded cash prizes.

Skill courses at ASTC are conducted under the Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojna (PMKVY), the flagship scheme driving Skill India Mission. This is an outcome of close coordination and cooperation between MoD and IHQ of MoD (Army) with the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship and NSDC. This initiative aims at enabling and empowering Army spouses, wards and widows with care, compassion and empathy to enhance their true self-worth and to become an integral part of the nation's skilled human resource. Around 180 candidates were awarded certificates.

CRPF celebrates Rakhi

Girls from a school in Dantewada tied rakhis to CRPF jawans on duty followed by a cultural programme. In return, the CRPF personnel distributed gifts and organised lunch for students. Senior officers of CRPF, along with troops, civil administration, including Deputy Collector and SDPO Kirandul, President Zila Panchayat, school principal, teachers, warden and media personnel attended the function.

On August 1, the district education officer and headmaster of the school made a complaint before the District Collector that few men in uniform misbehaved with some girls during the cultural programme at the Government Girls' School at Palnar. Keeping in view the gravity of the allegation, a high-level enquiry, chaired by DIG Dantewada, identified and suspended the culprits.

Delhi singer applauded

The North American Bengali Conference (NABC), a three-day annual conference, is held each year in different cities across USA. This year the conference was held in the heart of the world famous Silicon Valley in the city of Santa Clara, California. It was attended by about 5,000 local and international music lovers. Rini Mukherjee, an incredible talent and an established singer from New Delhi, mesmerised the audience with her rendition of Salil Choudhury's compositions on high octaves with difficult meters.
